

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

A. C. WIMPEE, representing the Baptist Brotherhood of Texas, in Hamlin Tuesday featured in several appearances.

Tuesday noon at the Hamlin Hamlin Lions Club luncheon, he gave interesting sidelights on several subjects, and spun his usual quota of yarns—which is considerable. The one that appealed to us most was about the colored man who was taking a vacation to New Orleans.

Ordinarily at home a mighty pious colored man, the darkey appeared one morning diked out in white shoes, a white linen suit, and with a Bible under his arm.

Asked by a friend where he was heading, he announced that he was going down to New Orleans for his first vacation in eight years.

"Why go to New Orleans?" his friend quizzed.

"Well, boss, they've got the most yaller nigger gals, the biggest bars, a tavern in every block, a honky-tonk above every building—and I'm going to celebrate."

"That all sounds very exciting, but why the Bible under your arm?" he friend put in.

"Well, if things are half as good as they say they are, I might stay over Sunday!"

WIMPEE also told of his son's first day at school. He is now nine years old, Wimpee said—and plenty smart in spite of his daddy.

"Back when he was six, and following his first day at school, his mother (who had missed him terribly the first day) asked the youngster what he had learned at school.

"I learned three little kids not to call me mother's little darling," he proudly announced.

DOUGLAS MEADOR, writing in his Trail Dust column of The Matador Tribune, pens these lines:

Childhood impressions have experienced many changes in the past three or four decades, and future changes promise to be more dramatic.

As a youth I liked to hear the plodding of horses' hoofs, the rhyme of trace chains and the soft thud of wagon wheels playing on the axles.

Today the sound has changed to whining gears, the exhaust of motors starting in unison, and soft tires slobbering over bricks in the pavement.

MELVIN DOW had these observations to make in his column in The Wink Bulletin:

From all reports, Wink is having the biggest mosquito crop in history. Don't know whether they are home-grown or not—but they are grown, and about the toughest critters we've found.

Seems they've built up an immunity to any type spray. A few years ago just a small whiff of household spray would send them tumbling, falling like a dead tick—but not now.

They fly right through the heaviest spray, like a jet through a rainstorm—even seem to relish the stuff.

HEREFORD BULL column of The Hereford Brand contains these comments of interest:

People generally are becoming poorer and poorer spells, and to make matters worse, the industrial teaches and inventors keep coming out with longer and more difficult words.

They have invented a new type of lighting, scheduled to come out two years from now.

It sounds like a good deal—except they have named it "electroluminiscent."

EDDIE WARREN, publisher of The Post Dispatch, writes a good column in his South Plains paper. We lift a recent comment:

Sooner or later a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head.

He learns that buck-passing turns out to be a boomerang.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through effort we move on to better things.

PICKET BEAUMONT SCHOOL—Several pickets, who identified themselves as members of the White Citizens Council, forcibly escorted two night class negro students off the campus of Lamar Tech College in Beaumont. Several of the pickets along with a number of students are shown outside the school. Picket members said picketing will continue until all negroes leave the state school.

A condensation of the history of the church follows:

YOU TAKING A STAND FOR YOUR COMMUNITY?

Here are 13 sure ways to ruin your home town. They were compiled by The Sedalia, Missouri, Democrat:

Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because the streets are not kept up.

Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside and then cuss those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

Get all the city will give you and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax money.

Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for your city unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker (or a crook).

Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a town better, howl because that town is run by a clique.

Don't back your fire department or your police department. If the firemen work to bring the insurance rates down, tell everybody that is what they are supposed to do. Don't thank them or the policemen for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment; raise Cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking laws.

Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one who gets the most good out of it, don't consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

Don't do anything for the youth of the town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude and talk down everything they do.

Don't work on any committee. Tell them, "I'm too busy."

Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point up its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in their department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

And don't support your local retail stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores of other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask your local stores and industries for it. Expect them to back you, but don't back them.

If these 13 steps don't ruin your town, it isn't your fault!

Our Flabby Youngsters

Writing in the American Magazine, John B. Kelly asks a startling question: Are we becoming a nation of weaklings?

Mr. Kelly, who was U. S. director of physical fitness during World War II and was a famous athlete in his own right, says that "American youngsters today are weaker and flabbier than those in many other countries, and they are growing softer every year." He cites the results of a scientific study of more than 8,000 children, aged six through 16, in this country and in Europe. Almost 58 per cent of the American youngsters failed in one or more of six basic strength and flexibility tests, as against 8.7 per cent for the Europeans.

Why should this be the shocking case when, as Kelly says, our children "get better nutrition and medical care than those of most other countries?" The answer seems to be that our children are leading increasingly sedentary lives. They ride instead of walking—they devote more time to the TV set than to sports. So, in this case, the blessings of "the more abundant life" can be a danger.

The problem is soluble. Mr. Kelly believes that schools should grade students in physical fitness just as in other subjects—and insist on passing marks. To quote him again, "Our pioneer forebears made this nation what it is because they possessed great physical strength as well as mental and spiritual hardihood. We can become just as strong if only we try."

Dollars Aren't Like Minutes

This country's gross national product—the money value of all goods and services produced—has passed the $400,000,000,000-a-year mark, almost double the 1945 figure.

However, as the Portland Oregonian points out, reaching this "magic" level is not as sensational as the announcement some months back that man finally had broken the four-minute mile. The reason is that a minute is a constant measure—it doesn't stretch or shrink from time to time. The dollar is something else again.

Today's dollar will buy a little less than 70 per cent of what the 1945 dollar would buy. Therefore, a $400,000,000,000 gross national product, adjusted to 1945 prices, comes to only about $300,000,000,000. That is what inflation has done.

Lip Service

Woodrow Wilson, who was a teacher and historian as well as a statesman, showed rare prescience when he said in 1914: "Liberty does not consist . . . in mere general declarations of the rights of men. It consists in the translation of these declarations into definite action."

Everyone, with hardly an exception, pays lip service to liberty. But more and more have seemed willing to surrender rights, obligations and responsibilities to the greatest enemy of human liberty—all-powerful government.

Editorial of the Week

FORTY PLUS

A man of 40 doesn't think himself old, unless he has behaved like a college boy the night before.

But 40 is a significant milestone and often a tragic one when looking for a job, even in these prosperous times. Some employers will not hire an older man in any circumstances. In other cases they will give him work only at minimum pay or of a type beneath his abilities.

This makes no sense from the viewpoint of efficiency.

In any job, except that requiring great physical strength, the accuracy, skill and dependability of men over 40 are likely as not to be greater than those of younger colleagues. Nor do they take their jobs for granted; to them the great depression is a personal memory.

From the employer's viewpoint, hiring men whose retirement is not far distant may place a burden on pension systems based solely on age and current pay. But that is more of an argument for flexible pension systems than against the employment of older men.

Fortunately, a little progress is being made toward correcting this injustice. Most interesting are the "forty plus clubs," which have just established a national headquarters in Washington. In these clubs unemployed men operate job placement services for themselves and fellow members, and they have had considerable success.

But more education of the public, and of employers in particular, needs to be done. The country can use the skills and manpower represented by the unemployed men of middle age and over, and they need and deserve the opportunity to do the work for which they are best equipped.—The Fort Worth Press.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

A Public Service Feature of the State Bar of Texas

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

AGENT'S ACTS BIND PRINCIPAL.

Suppose that you hire your neighbor's teen age son, Jimmy, to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into another neighbor's hedge. The hedge is ruined. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need a loaf of bread for the evening meal. You ask a friend to take your car and run to the store for it. On the way, he runs down old Mr. Peabody, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, an "agent" was acting for you. His acts while performing duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. In legal terms, you are the "principal."

You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned him to be extremely careful.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

Suppose you ask another person to do something for you; that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him or he may be doing it without compensation.

You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. Or, his responsibility may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations or warranties are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible.

In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval.

For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

You may have agreed between you that neither of you would buy, without the other's consent, any items of merchandise costing more than $50. You did not give this information to salesmen who called on you. In your absence on a Thursday afternoon your partner ordered merchandise for your store costing more than the $50 limit.

When the merchandise is delivered, you cannot refuse to accept it because you can be bound by the contract of your partner. This is true in many situations, and the salesman is not bound by your partnership agreement because you did not advise him of the $50 limitation.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

JUST EXERCISING.

When her small son came in with his pants torn, the mother said, "You go take off those pants and mend them yourself."

Sometime later she went in to see how he was getting along and found the pants lying on a chair

unmended. The door to the basement was open though, so she called down, "Are you running around down there with your pants off?"

"No, madam," was the dignified reply from a man. "I'm just reading the gas meter."

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drought. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody

VETERAN QUESTIONS

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to present and former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for this column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Question—What is considered full-time on-the-job training under the Korean GI bill?

Answer—Full-time training means the standard work week of the firm where the veteran is training, but not less than 36 hours a week. Training of less than 36 hours a week may be authorized if the firm's standard work week, arrived at through collective bargaining, is less than 36 hours.

Q—My application for disability compensation has been turned down. I plan to appeal. Do I file my appeal directly with VA's Board of Veterans Appeals in Washington, D. C.?

A—No. The appeal should be filed with the VA regional office having your records. The appeal procedure starts there.

Q—Is it possible for a veteran living in one state to get a GI loan to buy property in another state?

A—It is possible. However, you will find that generally lenders confine their lending operations to certain areas, and may not be willing to lend money for out-of-state property.

RELIEF AT LAST.

A problem child was becoming too well acquainted with the principal's office. One day the principal showed her annoyance.

"This makes the fifth time I have punished you this week. What have you to say for yourself?"

who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drought, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking a while but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Tex

member of that year when Rev. C. D. Ledger was sent to the Hamlin Church as pastor by the North-west Texas Conference.

A parsonage was built during the year but was sold during the same year.

A complete list of the charter members of this first church is not available due to the fire that destroyed the records but the following names have been recalled: Rev. and Mrs. Sam C. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peel and Myrtle Peel Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hudson and Pearl Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brians, Viola, Lottie, Florence and Ruth Brians, Mrs. Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fletcher and Lula Fletcher, and Mrs. F. H. Terrell.

Foundation of the Methodist Church on the present site was laid during the ministry of Rev. Ledger and was completed during the ministry of Rev. C. D. West, who followed Ledger as pastor in 1907-09. The building committee was composed of A. G. Hudson, J. H. Feagan, D. O. Sauls and others. The building was a frame structure and stood until 1926 during the pastorate of Rev. George T. Palmer. It was as modern as the age afforded.

The present brick structure, built in 1926-27, at a cost of around $50,000 was partially destroyed by fire in 1933, around Christmas time, during the pastorate of Rev. L. A. Webb. It was reconstructed in 1934, and some improvements were made over the original plan.

This building is now becoming inadequate for the present modern educational program of the Methodist Church and a new site has been purchased so that the expanding needs of a growing church membership and program may be met.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the church was organized in 1906 with Mrs. Sam C. Vaughn as the first president. There were round 10 charter members. In 1940 the name was changed to the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The membership is now 65.

In 1942 the Wesleyan Service Guild, a business and professional women's church society was organized. The membership of this group is 16. It is an affiliate of the woman's society.

The present pastor's home, which stands just north of the church, was erected during the pastorate of Rev. E. L. Yeats in 1944-46. Rev. Yeats drew the plans and did much of the construction work. This home was completed during the ministry of Dr. Will C. House, who followed Yeats as pastor of the church.

There have been 21 pastors of the church in its 50-year history. They were: Zora B. Pirtle, 1906; C. D. Ledger, 1906-07; C. D. West, 1907-09; W. R. Terry, 1909-11; J. E. Stephens, 1911-14; J. H. Hamblen, 1914-17; C. E. Jameson, 1917-21; G. H. Gattis, 1921-23; J. B. McReynolds, 1923-24; G. T. Palmer, 1924-28; Ben Hardy, 1928-30; T. C. Willett, 1930-33; L. A. Webb, 1933-34; H. A. Longino, 1934-35; H. W. Hanks, 1936-39; J. W. Hendrix, 1939-40; J. E. Harrell, 1940-44; E. L. Yeats, 1944-46; Will C. House, 1946-51; S. Duane Bruce, 1951-54; Darris L. Egger, present pastor, from 1954.

The present membership, numbering some 428, has grown from a charter membership of approximately 25 persons. The budget is around about $24,000. The Sunday School has a staff of 21 persons, with Richard Young Jr. as church school superintendent. Some 18 men and women and youths are members of the official board, with Wesley Nail as chairman.

Little Marian, four years old, was busy ironing her dolly's new gown one Sunday.

Her nurse admonished, "Don't you know it's a sin for any work to begin on the Sabbath?"

Marian looked up calmly and answered, "Now, don't you suppose the good Lord knows that this little iron ain't hot?"

Opening Luncheon of Fifty-Two Study Club Features "Vault of Knowledge"

Annual opening luncheon of the Fifty-Two Study Club was staged last Thursday noon at the Abilene Petroleum Club. Theme of the program which followed the luncheon was "Vault of Knowledge."

Mrs. Gene Westmoreland gave the invocation. After the luncheon was served, Mrs. Dean Witt, new president, acted as the locksmith to the vault of knowledge.

She spoke on the yearbook theme, "Keys to Knowledge."

Those present were Mmes. G. B. Phillips, V. Madden, Betty Fudge, Myrtle Clark, D. A. Mullings, Sid Clay, A. G. Anderson, Harold Lee and Melvin Waggoner, members; and Fern Waggoner and Pam, Faye Miller and David Mullings, guests.

She welcomed two new members, Mrs. J. T. Cox and Mrs. Ed Lewis. Mrs. Joe League, immediate past president, responded. Mrs. League, as chairman of the program committee, then presented the silver and pink yearbooks to members of the club.

Mrs. R. O. Bell and Mrs. Westmoreland assisted her in preparing the yearbooks. The yearbooks were hidden in a pink miniature bank vault which was connected to a large key ring in the center of the head table with pink satin streamers. The pink ribbon-wrapped key ring held 12 silver keys, each opening the lock of a program for the year.

Mrs. Witt was presented a pink carnation corsage by the club members when she arrived.

Biggest Body Changes in Modern Ford History Highlight Models for 1957

In the biggest change in modern Ford history, the 1957 Ford chassis has been completely redesigned for improved riding comfort and reduced car height. The new models went on display last week in Hamlin at the Hamlin Motor Company.

Major innovations begin with wide flaring frame design, a radical departure from previous years. Side rails extend around the passenger section, almost as wide as the body itself. In effect, the rails become side bumpers which protect the passengers. Heavier side rail stock and tubular cross-members make the new frame 27 per cent more rigid, Ford engineering tests reveal.

A tapered drive shaft enters the underslung hypoid rear axle almost an inch lower than in 1956. This improvement made it possible to lower the car's height without reducing passenger space.

Swept-back ball joint suspension eliminates 33 per cent of the parts on previous models. Upper and lower suspension arms are now single units, hinged with rubber bushings. Wheel motion on bumps is upward and rearward in a roll-with-the-blow action.

Wheels are 14 inches in diameter—one inch smaller than last year. Without sacrificing steering ease, the lower pressure tires have more tread surface on the road for better control. New wheels have rims with broader shoulders to give tubeless tires a firmer grip for severe turns in emergencies.

A loer angle steering column and smaller diameter deep-dish safety steering wheel provide better visibility over the hood. Steering ratio is up from 24.3 to one to 27.0 to one, for easier turning.

New outboard-motor springs are two inches longer than on the 1956 model. An even keel ride, with even less tendency for front end dive on quick stops and rear end dip on rapid starts, has been accomplished by increasing the length of the spring leaves ahead of the rear axle.

New live rubber mounts developed by Ford engineers are installed at 20 places between the body and the frame. The result is that the body rides on rubber, insulated from road vibration and noise.

Women Car Drivers Are Generally Safer Drivers Than Men

Don't laugh at your wife because you think she's a scaredy-cat. The National Safety Council says feminine prudence and skill are playing a part in holding the accidental death toll of women to about half the toll of men!

The council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," which is just off the press, also points out, however, that men are more exposed to danger because of their occupations and activities.

More women than men were killed in falls in 1954—the latest figure available. But the difference was not very great—551. And in all the other seven principal causes of accidental deaths men outnumbered women.

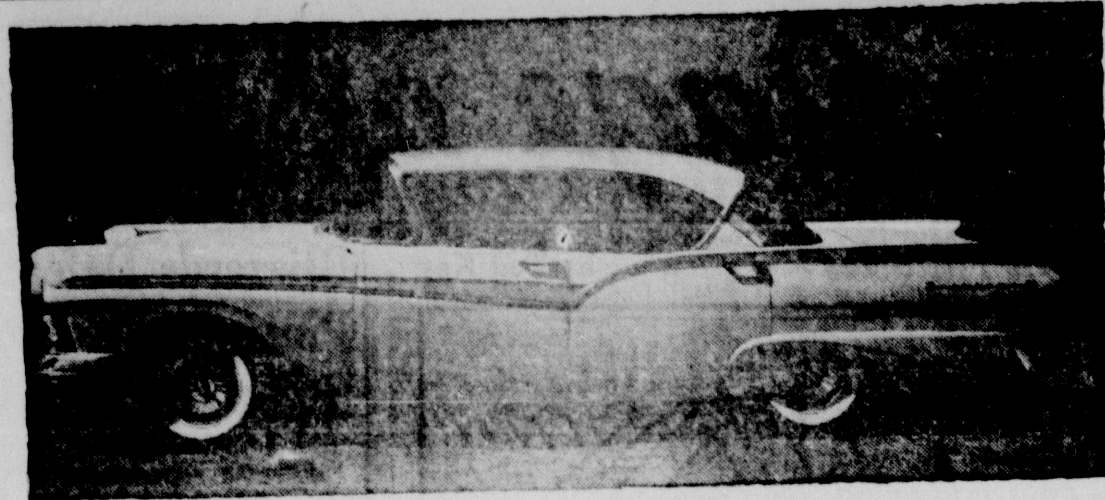

Motor vehicle accidents killed 26,727 men, 8,861 women; falls, 9,610 men, 10,161 women; fire burns, 3,372 men, 2,711 women; drownings, 5,450 men, 884 women; railroad accidents, 2,129 men, 487 women; firearms, 2,016 men, 265 women; poison gases, 881 men, 342 women; and poisons (except gas), 779 men, 560 women.

Auditions Conduct For HHS Stage Band

Auditions for the stage band of Hamlin High School, under the direction of Mac Fullerton, were conducted several days ago.

This group is composed of members of the band with the exception of the pianists. The stage band performs at banquets or any other social function in the community where a small musical group is needed.

Members are Mac Fullerton, conductor; Elizabeth Norton and Elva Siburt, pianists; Annette Fletcher, vocalist; Sara Fomby, Ginger Means, Peggy Killion, Joe Stephens, Bryan Shelburne, Jay Cunningham, Jim Stinnett, Gene Steele, Jerry Crowley and Everett Gibson.

FROM THE ROAD UP 1957 Fords are a complete departure from previous models. The new models were unveiled last week at Hamlin Motor Company in Hamlin. Ford has 19 body styles, of which the above is the four-door Victoria, a member of the new Fairlane 500 series. Airline models are nine inches longer and four inches lower than their 1956 counterparts. Though the new models are lower, interior headroom is as great as last year, since the car's chassis and floor are re-designed for a lower center of gravity.

Varied Stunts Given By Band at Games

Under the direction of the new instructor, Mac Fullerton, the high stepping Pied Piper Band is striving again this year to entertain the football spectators.

In the seven minutes allotted the band at half-time the group enacts a dream conjured by the chief. Each week everyone is surprised as to what the stunt will be until Wednesday morning. The stunt is drilled several hours or until it looks presentable.

This week the Piper Band and Pep Squad will have the whole half-time activities of the homecoming game. The Homecoming Queen will be presented, several stunts performed. A fireworks show and twirler features are other activities planned.

Fuel tanks have been increased in capacity to 20 gallons, three more than last year, for greater cruising range.

Tuesday-Wednesday Safest Part of Week

Driving somewhere? Then take advantage of reduced accident rates by traveling on Tuesday or Wednesday.

"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press, shows that in 1955 more than twice as many fatal motor vehicle accidents occurred on Saturday and Sunday than on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reports from 36 states show these fatal accident percentages of the week's total toll: Saturday,

Colorado City Wolves to Face Pipers in Homecoming Tilt

Nix-Men to Give Class AAA Crew Stiff Competition

It will be homecoming for the students of Hamlin High School Friday night, and it will feature the grid battle on Pied Piper stadium between Coach Truman Nix's cohorts and the Colorado City Wolves from Michell County.

Although the Wolves have been pushed up to Class AAA football, the long time foes of the Pipers are in for a scrap with a spunky bunch of rookies from Hamlin High School who will be trying to "bring home the bacon" for a big bunch of former students—many of whom will be former members of Pied Piper teams of former years.

With two victories and one tie out of five games played so far this season, the Pied Pipers need to win Friday night's tilt to stay above the .500 percentage mark in the non-conference standings of pre-season games.

The Wolves have won two and lost three games so far this season, and apparently are outclassed by other teams in their AAA conference this year.

Hamlin Juniors Take Undisputed Lead of Conference Standing

Hamlin Junior High School's Mighty Mice took undisputed lead of the five-member Junior High league last week with their defeat of the Anson Juniors, which had shared the lead the previous week.

After last week's grid tussles the standings looked like this:

Team—	P.	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Hamlin	3	3	0	0	1.000
Anson	2	1	1	0	.500
Rotan	2	1	1	0	.500
Albany	1	0	1	0	.000
Merkel	2	0	2	0	.000

Only one game was played last week, Coach Harry Martin's Mighty Mice trimming the Anson crew 21 to 19. The Albany-Merkel game was postponed because of rain. Rotan was idle.

This week's games, scheduled to be played Tuesday night were: Hamlin at Rotan and Anson at Albany. Merkel had an open date.

Mighty Mice of Junior High Trip Anson by 21 to 19

Those Mighty Mice of Hamlin Junior High School took over undisputed first place in their conference by handing the Anson Juniors their first defeat of the season Tuesday night by a score of 21 to 19. The game was closely played, with neither team being able to dominate their opponent.

Hamlin took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards to take the lead. Robert Brandon scampered the last 11 yards with Wesley Cummings plunging for the extra point.

Anson received the kick-off and three plays later shook one of their fast backs loose for 65 yards to the Hamlin five. On the fourth play Anson scored, but failed to make the extra point. Halftime found Hamlin nursing a 7 to 6 lead.

At the start of the second half an Anson boy rambled 42 yards to send his team into the lead. The extra point was added.

On the first play after the kickoff Robert Brandon found a hole in the middle of the Anson line and sprinted 65 yards to tie the game up. Wesley Cummings again plunged for the extra point to regain the lead.

Hamlin scored again in the third quarter with Michael Bonds swinging around right end from 18 yards out. Wesley Cummings plunged to make the score 21 to 13.

Anson roared back for one touchdown midway in the fourth quarter.

Michael Bonds' passing to Wayne Boatright featured the Hamlin attack. Bob Murff was outstanding on defense.

Efforts of Game and Fish Commission To Advance Sportsmen Interests Noted

Hamlin area hunters are manifesting interest in recent efforts to advance facilities for hunters and fishermen during the past several months.

Progress, naturally limited by negative weather, marked efforts to advance facilities for hunters and fishermen during the state fiscal year ending September 1, according to a release to The Herald this week from the executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He said the forward pace "was not as fast as it might have been in view of the dry conditions affecting the animal kingdom which is so sensitive to the elements."

Despite the unfavorable conditions, the executive secretary said "a promising new start has been made toward putting bob-white quail back in Texas in numbers adequate to restore the once famous fall field sport."

The quail movement centers around a state-wide educational program to counsel land owners and hunters in the essential phases of quail habitat development all linked to the new experimental quail farm at Tyler, which is designed to provide brood stock where native birds are not available.

The commission, he added, also has: Conducted a broad transplanting program involving deer, antelope and turkey, as well as exotic upland game species expected to populate arid West Texas areas; extended regulatory respon-

Blizzards Defeat Pipers in Friday Night Tilt 28 to 13

With two regulars out of the line-up Friday night, the Truman Nix coached Pied Pipers dropped their fifth game of the current grid season 28 to 13 to a superior Winters Blizzard team.

Eight minutes after the kick-off Winters scored when Maurice Holle raced over on a handoff from Jimmy Hoppe and three yards. Mack Young kicked the extra point.

In the second period Holle again went 40 yards for the second Blizzards score and Young converted.

Again in the second period Donald Casey went over on a 21-yard pass from Holle after Johnny Pope intercepted a Hamlin pass on the Pied Piper 27-yard spot. Young again converted.

In the fourth period Hamlin recovered a Winters fumbled punt on the 50-yard stripe. The Pipers scored when quarterback Don Adair passed to End Lane Fletcher, who went 50 yards for the marker. Charles Jenkins' extra point try was wide.

Winters recovered a Hamlin fumble on the Piper 35-yard line to set up its final score. Hoppe plunged over on a one-yard push. Younk kicked his fourth extra point in a row.

Again the Pipers tallied in the fourth quarter when Doug Ford went 57 yards on a screen pass play from Adair. Jenkins kicked the extra point.

Winters made 17 first downs to five for Hamlin. Winters gained 312 yards rushing and 25 yards passing to Hamlin's 104 yards in the rushing department and 80 yards on passes.

Mighty Mice Have Open Grid Schedule

The rampaging Mighty Mice of Junior High School have an open date next Tuesday on their grid schedule.

The local junior high gidders have completed the first half of double round robin and are assured at least a tie for first place.

Stamford and Seymour Keep Perfect Records to Top District 4-AA Teams

Stamford and Seymour upheld the victory skeins of District 4-AA football teams last week-end to continue to impress area grid fans that there is strength in the smaller Central West Texas schools. Hamlin and Anson dropped their tilts to slide further down the percentage ladder of pre-conference standings.

Stamford's stampeding Bulldogs hung a 40 to 6 shellacking on the Coleman High School Bluecats on the Stamford griddle. As usual it was a clever, speedy Mike McClellan who led the attack with his scintillating runs and passes.

With only 12 minutes left in the game the Bluecats scored a tally to keep out of the skunked department. Coleman made 18 first downs to 24 for Stamford to prove the game was not so one-sided after all.

Anson High School's Tigers went down before the strong Merck Badgers 14 to 6, to give the Pied Pipers some confidence that their 39 to 33 loss to the Badgers wasn't so bad two weeks ago. Jerry McLeod passed to Kermit Rutledge who scored first for Merkel in the first quarter and Rutledge kicked the extra point. Jack Russell tallied the second score later in the same quarter and Rutledge again kicked the two point-er. The Tigers scored when Jimmy Roberts went over from the one in the third quarter. Anson racked up eight first downs to Merkel's seven.

Seymour's Panthers made it five wins in a row Friday night when they trounced the Childress Bobcats to the tune of 42 to 13 in a tilt at Seymour. Larry Martin, Larry Walling, Billy Ryan, Howard Goss and Eddie Syptak accounted for the Seymour counters, Walling getting two. Bill Moss kicked five extra points and Bob Plummer converted another. Childress pushed over both its markers in the final quarter. First downs favored Seymour, 18 to 13.

Hamlin's 28 to 13 loss to the strong Winters Blizzards was not a surprise to most dopesters. The locals were suffering from injuries and were underdogs from the starting whistle. Winters scored in the first frame, twice in the second and again in the final quarter. Mack Young kicked all four extra points. Hamlin scored both its touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Lane Fletcher went over on a 50-yard pass from Charles Jenkins after the Pipers recovered a Winters fumble. Again in the final period Adair passed to Doug Ford who went 57 yards for the counter. Jenkins kicked the last extra point.

Most of Faults of Young People Due To Their Parents

"Most of the faults and failings of our young people of today are because of the failings of their parents," declared A. C. Wimpee, associate secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of Texas, when he spoke Tuesday at the noon luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

Wimpee in Hamlin for at least three speaking engagements, used sage remarks based on right living, clean thinking and observance of the 10 commandments as basis for sound reasoning between yawns and displays of juggling and other acts.

He was due to speak Tuesday afternoon at the Hamlin High School and that evening at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church.

Frank Legon was recognized as a new member of the Lions Club. He is connected with H. & M. Tire and Appliance Store.

President Edgar Dunean of the club announced that a special Oil Progress Week program will be presented next Tuesday by Joe League. Lions were asked to invite as guests people of the community connected with the oil industry.

Besides Wimpee, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon included Rev. Calvin Bailey, new pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. Woodrow McHugh, pastor of the North Central Avenue Baptist Church; Sam Hayes and Frank Smith.

Rural Areas Account For Most Accidents

Sometimes you're safer among the tall buildings than in the tall corn.

The traffic death rate in urban areas is less than half that of rural areas, according to the 1955 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

The 1955 rural death rate was more than eight per 100,000,000 miles of travel, while the city death rate was less than four.

Night driving is considerably more hazardous than day driving in both urban and rural areas.

ROTARIANS of Hamlin will be host next Tuesday and Wednesday to Sydney A. Gaines (above) district governor of the 186th District of Rotary International. He will speak at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the club at the oil mill guest house.

District Governor Of Rotary Clubs To Be Hamlin Visitor

Rotary Club of Hamlin will be host next Tuesday and Wednesday to Sydney A. Gaines, governor of the 186th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 36 Rotary Clubs in Northwest Texas. Gaines will address the local club next Wednesday noon and will confer with Club President M. S. Johnson, with Club Secretary John Howard Jr. and with committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

A member and past president of the Rotary Club of Wichita Falls, Gaines was elected a district governor of Rotary International for the 1956-57 fiscal year at Rotary's forty-seventh annual convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, last June. He is one of 248 district governors supervising the activities of more than 9,100 Rotary Clubs, which have a membership of 431,000 business and professional executives in 99 countries of the free world. Gaines is general manager of the United Electric Company in Wichita Falls, and for many years has given leadership to civic, fraternal, religious and business activities on both local and state levels.

Club President Johnson, in discussing the district governor's visit, pointed out that wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Hamlin club. All Rotary activities are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment, undertaking raising the standards of business and the professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world.

Johnson stated that Rotray International continues to grow in numbers and strength each year. During the past fiscal year, 351 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Europe and the Islands of the Pacific. Seven countries were added to Rotary's roster—Angola, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands, New Guinea, Ruanda-Urundi, and Swaziland.

Washington One of Safest Places to Drive In All of Country

Ever wonder why so many people want to be congressmen and senators?

Well, aside from the pay and prestige there may be another important reason.

The district of Columbia is one of the safest places in the country to work and to drive a motor vehicle. The death rate there last year from accidents occurring at work was 1.4 per 100,000 population, and the motor vehicle death rate was 11.6—as compared with 8.6 and 23.3 for the nation.

According to the 1956 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, which is just off

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently.

He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates."

Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

Cattle Grubs Can Be Controlled by Care, Says Agent

Cattle raisers of the Hamlin section were being warned this week by County Agent Bill Lehman to be on the look-out for cattle grubs. He submitted the following release:

Cattle grubs are costly, but can be controlled. From October through December cattle grubs can be found in the backs of cattle of the area.

A recent estimate by the Agriculture Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says the damage to hide and flesh of each grub infested animal is more than $7 per head.

The loss shows up in (1) hide damage, (2) unsightly and devalued carcasses due to trimming, (3) lower feed lot gains, (4) reduced milk production, (5) frightened, running cattle during heel fly season, which further reduces gain and production.

Recommended treatment includes spraying and dusting. For large herds spray with 7½ pounds of five per cent rotenone per 100 gallons of water. For small herd a prepared dust containing at least 1.67 per cent rotenone. A minimum of three ounces of dust should be worked thoroughly into the hair on the back of the animal.

Treat at 30-day intervals as long as necessary, starting when the grubs first make a hole through the skin.

The heel fly, the adult stage of the cattle grub, lays its eggs on the hair of the legs during the first warm weather in spring. These hatch in two to six days and the larvae immediately bore into the skin. They migrate through the animal's body and months later reach the animal's back. Here they form a pocket or cyst and grow more rapidly. A hole is bored through the hide for breathing. Finally they emerge and drop to the ground to start the cycle all over again.

Annual Financial Drive for Hamlin Camp Fire Girls Conducted This Week

Hamlin Camp Fire Girls organization has shown rapid expansion since the charter was received two years ago. The number of paid members in the local council has increased from 66 to 104 in the last calendar year. These facts were revealed by Mrs. E. N. Jenkins, registrar, at the recent meeting of the board of directors.

Last Tuesday evening the following members of the board met in business session, with President John D. Ferguson presiding: Mrs. William Seals, secretary; Mrs. Arlie Cassle, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. McClung, chairman of the leaders association; Mrs. E. N. Jenkins, registrar; Mrs. James FitzGerald, publications chairman; Mrs. Irby Weaver, organization chairman; Mrs. Jack Wicker, group leader; and Mrs. John D. Ferguson, sponsor.

Finance Committee Chairman C. L. Howard presented the plans for the annual fund campaign, and the group voted to have the drive on Monday and Tuesday, October 8 and 9. This finance drive is in the form of a house-to-house solicitation conducted by mothers and leaders, with all funds remaining in the Hamlin council for local use after the $15 dues are paid to the national office.

Among recent improvements made at the Camp Fire Girls hut were installation of an air conditioner; purchase of a dozen folding chairs and gardening equipment. All improvements and additions have been made possible by the generous support of the local citizenry to this character building organization for girls. The Camp Fire board and leaders association express gratitude to citizens for their continued interest and support.

Next meeting of the board was scheduled for October 18 at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

PUT ON HIS NOSE.

A religious and charitable woman noticed a very down-and-out sort of man standing at the corner of the street near her residence.

One morning she took compassion on him, pressed a dollar into his hand and whispered, "Never despair."

The next time she saw him he stopped her and handed her nine dollars.

"What does this mean?" she asked.

"It means, ma'am," said the man, "that Never Despair won at eight to one."

Dangerous Vocations Practice Safety Rules

Looking for a nice safe place to work? Try a high explosive plant!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows that the 1953-55 average accident frequency rate for high explosives plants is less than one-third of the average rate for all industries. Plants manufacturing powder and fuses are also far below the average for all industries.

Apparently the very nature of the work makes everybody concerned more careful, the council said.

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

A. C. WIMPEE, representing the Baptist Brotherhood of Texas, in Hamlin Tuesday was featured in several appearances.

Tuesday noon at the Hamlin Hamlin Lions Club luncheon, he gave interesting sidelights on several subjects, and spun his usual quota of yarns—which is considerable. The one that appealed to us most was about the colored man who was taking a vacation to New Orleans.

Ordinarily at home a mighty pious colored man, the darkey appeared one morning diked out in white shoes, a white linen suit, and with a Bible under his arm. Asked by a friend where he was heading, he announced that he was going down to New Orleans for his first vacation in eight years.

"Why go to New Orleans?" his friend quizzed.

"Well, boss, they've got the most yaller nigger gals, the biggest bars, a tavern in every block, a honky-tonk above every building—and I'm going to celebrate."

"That all sounds very exciting, but why the Bible under your arm?" he friend put in.

"Well, if things are half as good as they say they are, I might stay over Sunday!"

WIMPEE also told of his son's first day at school. He is now nine years old, Wimpee said—and plenty smart in spite of his daddy.

"Back when he was six, and following his first day at school, his mother (who had missed him terribly the first day) asked the youngster what he had learned at school.

"I learned three little kids not to call me mother's little darling," he proudly announced.

DOUGLAS MEADOR, writing in his Trail Dust column of The Matador Tribune, pens these lines:

Childhood impressions have experienced many changes in the past three or four decades, and future changes promise to be more dramatic.

As a youth I liked to hear the plodding of horses' hoofs, the thime of trace chains and the soft thud of wagon wheels playing on the axles.

Today the sound has changed to whining gears, the exhaust of motors starting in unison, and soft tires slobbering over bricks in the pavement.

MELVIN DOW had these observations to make in his column in The Wink Bulletin:

From all reports, Wink is having the biggest mosquito crop in history. Don't know whether they are home-grown or not—but they are grown, and about the toughest critters we've found.

Seems they've built up an immunity to any type spray. A few years ago just a small whiff of household spray would send them tumbling, falling like a dead sack—but not now.

They fly right through the heaviest spray, like a jet through a rainstorm—even seem to relish the stuff.

HEREFORD BULL column of The Hereford Brand contains these comments of interest:

People generally are becoming poorer and poorer spells, and to make matters worse, the industrial teaches and inventors keep coming out with longer and more difficult words.

They have invented a new type of lighting, scheduled to come out two years from now.

It sounds like a good deal—except they have named it "electroluminiscent."

EDDIE WARREN, publisher of The Post Dispatch, writes a good column in his South Plains paper. We lift a recent comment:

Sooner or later a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head.

He learns that buck-passing turns out to be a boomerang.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through effort we move on to better things.

PICKET BEAUMONT SCHOOL—Several pickets, who identified themselves as members of the White Citizens Council, forcibly escorted two night class negro students off the campus of Lamar Tech College in Beaumont. Hamlin Negro Fined $133 in Liquor Case

Freddie Lee Franklin, Hamlin colored man, was convicted of possession of intoxicants for sale when arraigned last week before County Judge H. G. (Pete) Andrews at Anson. He was assessed a fine of $133.55.

Franklin was arrested September 26 in the colored section of town by Police Chief Buddy Watson and Cliff King, deputy sheriff of Anson. Thirty-two quarts of beer and six pints of wine were taken in the arrest.

An invitation is extended to everyone in Hamlin and adjoining communities, and to ex-students attending the homecoming and also to visitors attending the First Methodist Church's fiftieth anniversary celebration, to participate in the library formal opening.

A new sign has been placed on the library building, which is located on Southwest Avenue A, just south of the Foster Hotel. The property was donated to the forum for the library by Mrs. D. D. Harden, long time Hamlin resident. It was the family home for years.

Back home from two years' service with Uncle Sam's Army is Joe Don Hymer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hymer. He received his discharge several days ago at Fort Lewis, Washington. He had spent 18 months of his duty with an Army unit in Alaska.

Young Hymer entered the Army on October 12, 1954, in Abilene and was sent to Fort Bliss for eight weeks of infantry basic and eight weeks of radar operator school. He was then sent to Alaska with Battery A, 502nd Anti-Aircraft Battalion.

Hymer is a 1953 graduate of Hamlin High School, and attended the University of Wyoming before entering the service. He plans to enter the University of Texas to study for a law degree.

Registrations So Far Indicate Fine Attendance Due

Hamlin will be the scene this week-end of the return of several hundred former students of Hamlin High School in the second annual homecoming. This year's gathering is being sponsored by the HHS Ex-Students Association, of which Cliff Reynolds Jr. is president.

Advance registrations of exes in the Hamlin territory has been underway since Monday at the high school, and even these have indicated a sizeable increase in attendance over last year's initial homecoming.

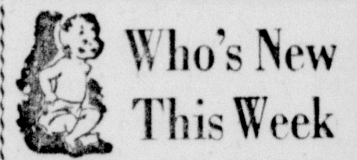

Formal registration of out-of-town attendants is expected to get underway Friday afternoon at 3:30 p. m.

Football game between the Hamlin Pied Pipers and the Colorado City Wolves will top Friday night's activities at the Pied Piper stadium. After the game a coffee will be served at the high school cafeteria.

Between halves of the grid tilt the crowning of a Homecoming Queen will be featured. Four finalists elected by secret ballot of the high school students to compete for the title are Linda Carlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carlton; Janis Crowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crowley; Elizabeth Norton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Norton; Mary Jo Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hubbard. The queen, whose identity will remain completely unknown until Friday night, will be crowned by Cliff Reynolds Jr., president of the exes' association.

A program for and by exes of the high school will be conducted in the high school auditorium beginning at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

A barbecue is scheduled for Saturday noon in the high school cafeteria, being prepared by Underwood's of Abilene. Business firms of Hamlin have been asked to close from 1:00 to 2:00 p. m. for the barbecue.

YOU TAKING A STAND FOR YOUR COMMUNITY?

Here are 13 sure ways to ruin your home town. They were compiled by The Sedalia, Missouri, Democrat:

Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because the streets are not kept up.

Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside and then cuss those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

Get all the city will give you and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax money.

Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for your city unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker (or a crook).

Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a town better, howl because that town is run by a clique.

Don't back your fire department or your police department. If the firemen work to bring the insurance rates down, tell everybody that is what they are supposed to do. Don't thank them or the policemen for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment; raise Cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking laws.

Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one who gets the most good out of it, don't consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

Don't do anything for the youth of the town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude and talk down everything they do.

Don't work on any committee. Tell them, "I'm too busy."

Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point up its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in their department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

And don't support your local retail stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores of other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask your local stores and industries for it. Expect them to back you, but don't back them.

If these 13 steps don't ruin your town, it isn't your fault!

Our Flabby Youngsters

Writing in the American Magazine, John B. Kelly asks a startling question: Are we becoming a nation of weaklings?

Mr. Kelly, who was U. S. director of physical fitness during World War II and was a famous athlete in his own right, says that "American youngsters today are weaker and flabbier than those in many other countries, and they are growing softer every year." He cites the results of a scientific study of more than 8,000 children, aged six through 16, in this country and in Europe. Almost 58 per cent of the American youngsters failed in one or more of six basic strength and flexibility tests, as against 8.7 per cent for the Europeans.

Why should this be the shocking case when, as Kelly says, our children "get better nutrition and medical care than those of most other countries?" The answer seems to be that our children are leading increasingly sedentary lives. They ride instead of walking—they devote more time to the TV set than to sports. So, in this case, the blessings of "the more abundant life" can be a danger.

The problem is soluble. Mr. Kelly believes that schools should grade students in physical fitness just as in other subjects—and insist on passing marks. To quote him again, "Our pioneer forebears made this nation what it is because they possessed great physical strength as well as mental and spiritual hardihood. We can become just as strong if only we try."

Dollars Aren't Like Minutes

This country's gross national product—the money value of all goods and services produced—has passed the $400,000,000,000-a-year mark, almost double the 1945 figure.

However, as the Portland Oregonian points out, reaching this "magic" level is not as sensational as the announcement some months back that man finally had broken the four-minute mile. The reason is that a minute is a constant measure—it doesn't stretch or shrink from time to time. The dollar is something else again.

Today's dollar will buy a little less than 70 per cent of what the 1945 dollar would buy. Therefore, a $400,000,000,000 gross national product, adjusted to 1945 prices, comes to only about $300,000,000,000. That is what inflation has done.

Lip Service

Woodrow Wilson, who was a teacher and historian as well as a statesman, showed rare prescience when he said in 1914: "Liberty does not consist . . . in mere general declarations of the rights of men. It consists in the translation of these declarations into definite action."

Everyone, with hardly an exception, pays lip service to liberty. But more and more have seemed willing to surrender rights, obligations and responsibilities to the greatest enemy of human liberty—all-powerful government.

Editorial of the Week FORTY PLUS

A man of 40 doesn't think himself old, unless he has behaved like a college boy the night before.

But 40 is a significant milestone and often a tragic one when looking for a job, even in these prosperous times. Some employers will not hire an older man in any circumstances. In other cases they will give him work only at minimum pay or of a type beneath his abilities.

This makes no sense from the viewpoint of efficiency.

In any job, except that requiring great physical strength, the accuracy, skill and dependability of men over 40 are likely as not to be greater than those of younger colleagues. Nor do they take their jobs for granted; to them the great depression is a personal memory.

From the employer's viewpoint, hiring men whose retirement is not far distant may place a burden on pension systems based solely on age and current pay. But that is more of an argument for flexible pension systems than against the employment of older men.

Fortunately, a little progress is being made toward correcting this injustice. Most interesting are the "forty plus clubs," which have just established a national headquarters in Washington. In these clubs unemployed men operate job placement services for themselves and fellow members, and they have had considerable success.

But more education of the public, and of employers in particular, needs to be done. The country can use the skills and manpower represented by the unemployed men of middle age and over, and they need and deserve the opportunity to do the work for which they are best equipped.—The Fort Worth Press.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

A Public Service Feature of the State Bar of Texas

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

AGENT'S ACTS BIND PRINCIPAL

Suppose that you hire your neighbor's teen age son, Jimmy, to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into another neighbor's hedge. The hedge is ruined. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need a loaf of bread for the evening meal. You ask a friend to take your car and run to the store for it. On the way, he runs down old Mr. Peabody, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, an "agent" was acting for you. His acts while performing duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. In legal terms, you are the "principal."

You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned him to be extremely careful.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

Suppose you ask another person to do something for you; that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him or he may be doing it without compensation.

You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. Or, his responsibility may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations or warranties are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval.

For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

You may have agreed between you that neither of you would buy, without the other's consent, any items of merchandise costing more than $50. You did not give this information to a salesman who called on you. In your absence on a Thursday afternoon your partner ordered merchandise for your store costing more than the $50 limit.

When the merchandise is delivered, you cannot refuse to accept it because you can be bound by the contract of your partner. This is true in many situations, and the salesman is not bound by your partnership agreement because you did not advise him of the $50 limitation.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

JUST EXERCISING.

When her small son came in with his pants torn, the mother said, "You go take off those pants and mend them yourself."

Sometime later she went in to see how he was getting along and found the pants lying on a chair

unmended. The door to the basement was open though, so she called down, "Are you running around down there with your pants off?"

"No, madam," was the dignified reply from a man. "I'm just reading the gas meter."

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drought. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Ray-burn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody

VETERAN QUESTIONS

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to present and former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for this column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Question.—What is considered full-time on-the-job training under the Korean GI bill?

Answer.—Full-time training means the standard work week of the firm where the veteran is training, but not less than 36 hours a week. Training of less than 36 hours a week may be authorized if the firm's standard work week, arrived at through collective bargaining, is less than 36 hours.

Q.—My application for disability compensation has been turned down. I plan to appeal. Do I file my appeal directly with VA's Board of Veterans Appeals in Washington, D. C.?

A.—No. The appeal should be filed with the VA regional office having your records. The appeal procedure starts there.

Q.—Is it possible for a veteran living in one state to get a GI loan to buy property in another state?

A.—It is possible. However, you will find that generally lenders confine their lending operations to certain areas, and may not be willing to lend money for out-of-state property.

RELIEF AT LAST.

A problem child was becoming too well acquainted with the principal's office. One day the principal showed her annoyance.

"This makes the fifth time I have punished you this week. What have you to say for yourself?"

who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $51,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drought, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile, but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Tex

member of that year when Rev. C. D. Ledger was sent to the Hamlin Church as pastor by the North-west Texas Conference.

A parsonage was built during the year but was sold during the same year.

A complete list of the charter members of this first church is not available due to the fire that destroyed the records but the following names have been recalled: Rev. and Mrs. Sam C. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peel and Myrtle Peel Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hudson and Pearl Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brians, Viola, Lottie, Florence and Ruth Brians, Mrs. Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fletcher and Lula Fletcher, and Mrs. F. H. Terrell.

Foundation of the Methodist Church on the present site was laid during the ministry of Rev. Ledger and was completed during the ministry of Rev. C. D. West, who followed Ledger as pastor in 1907-09. The building committee was composed of A. G. Hudson, J. H. Feagan, D. O. Sauls and others. The building was a frame structure and stood until 1926 during the pastorate of Rev. George T. Palmer. It was as modern as the age afforded.

The present brick structure, built in 1926-27, at a cost of around $50,000 was partially destroyed by fire in 1933, around Christmas time, during the pastorate of Rev. L. A. Webb. It was reconstructed in 1934, and some improvements were made over the original plan.

This building is now becoming inadequate for the present modern educational program of the Methodist Church and a new site has been purchased so that the expanding needs of a growing church membership and program may be met.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the church was organized in 1906 with Mrs. Sam C. Vaughn as the first president. There were round 10 charter members. In 1940 the name was changed to the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The membership is now 65.

In 1942 the Wesleyan Service Guild, a business and professional women's church society was organized. The membership of this group is 16. It is an affiliate of the woman's society.

The present pastor's home, which stands just north of the church, was erected during the pastorate of Rev. E. L. Yeats in 1944-46. Rev. Yeats drew the plans and did much of the construction work. This home was completed during the ministry of Dr. Will C. House, who followed Yeats as pastor of the church.

There have been 21 pastors of the church in its 50-year history. They were: Zora B. Pirtle, 1906; C. D. Ledger, 1906-07; C. D. West, 1907-09; W. R. Terry, 1909-11; J. E. Stephens, 1911-14; J. H. Hamblen, 1914-17; C. E. Jameson, 1917-21; G. H. Gattis, 1921-23; J. B. McReynolds, 1923-24; G. T. Palmer, 1924-28; Ben Hardy, 1928-30; T. C. Willett, 1930-33; L. A. Webb, 1933-34; H. A. Longino, 1934-35; H. W. Hanks, 1936-39; J. W. Hendrix, 1939-40; J. E. Harrell, 1940-44; E. L. Yeats, 1944-46; Will C. House, 1946-51; S. Duane Bruce, 1951-54; Darris L. Egger, present pastor, from 1954.

The present membership, numbering some 428, has grown from a charter membership of approximately 25 persons. The budget is around about $24,000. The Sunday School has a staff of 21 persons, with Richard Young Jr. as church school superintendent. Some 18 men and women and youths are members of the official board, with Wesley Nail as chairman.

Little Marian, four years old, was busy ironing her dolly's new gown one Sunday.

Her nurse admonished, "Don't you know it's a sin for any work to begin on the Sabbath?"

Marian looked up calmly and answered, "Now, don't you suppose the good Lord knows that this little iron ain't hot?"

Biggest Body Changes in Modern Ford History Highlight Models for 1957

In the biggest change in modern Ford History, the 1957 Ford chassis has been completely redesigned for improved riding comfort and reduced car height. The new models went on display last week in Hamlin at the Hamlin Motor Company.

Major innovations begin with wide flaring frame design, a radical departure from previous years. Side rails extend around the passenger section, almost as wide as the body itself. In effect, the rails become side bumpers which protect the passengers. Heavier side rail stock and tubular cross-members make the new frame 27 per cent more rigid, Ford engineering tests reveal.

A tapered drive shaft enters the underslung hypoid rear axle almost an inch lower than in 1956. This improvement made it possible to lower the car's height without reducing passenger space.

Swept-back ball joint suspension eliminates 33 per cent of the parts on previous models. Upper and lower suspension arms are now single units, hinged with rubber bushings. Wheel motion on bumps is upward and rearward in a roll-with-the-blow action.

Wheels are 14 inches in diameter—one inch smaller than last year. Without sacrificing steering ease, the lower pressure tires have more tread surface on the road for better control. New wheels have rims with broader shoulders to give tubeless tires a firmer grip for severe turns in emergencies.

A loer angle steering column and smaller diameter deep-dish safety steering wheel provide better visibility over the hood. Steering ratio is up from 24.3 to one to 27.0 to one, for easier turning.

New outboard-motor springs are two inches longer than on the 1956 model. An even keel ride, with even less tendency for front end dip on quick stops and rear end dip on rapid starts, has been accomplished by increasing the length of the spring leaves ahead of the rear axle.

New live rubber mounts developed by Ford engineers are installed at 20 places between the body and the frame. The result is that the body rides on rubber, insulated from road vibration and noise.

Women Car Drivers Are Generally Safer Drivers Than Men

Don't laugh at your wife because you think she's a scaredy-cat. The National Safety Council says feminine prudence and skill are playing a part in holding the accidental death toll of women to about half the toll of men!

The council's statistical year-book, "Accident Facts," which is just off the press, also points out, however, that men are more exposed to danger because of their occupations and activities.

More women than men were killed in falls in 1954—the latest figure available. But the difference was not very great—551. And in all the other seven principal causes of accidental deaths men outnumbered women.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 26,727 men, 8,861 women; falls, 9,610 men, 10,161 women; fire burns, 3,372 men, 2,711 women; drownings, 5,450 men, 884 women; railroad accidents, 2,129 men, 487 women; firearms, 2,016 men, 265 women; poison gases, 881 men, 342 women; and poisons (except gas), 779 men, 560 women.

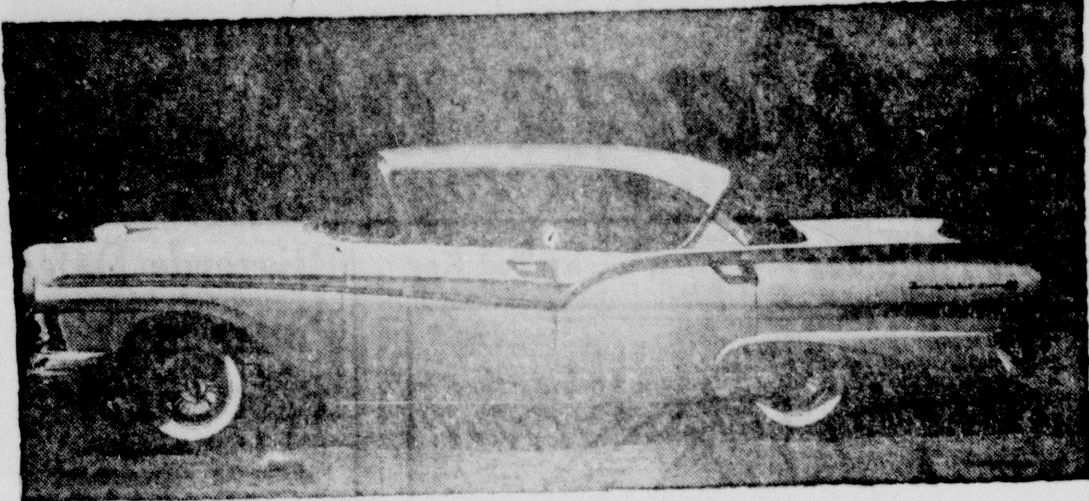

Death came Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock in the Hamlin Memorial Hospital to George Larkin McCracken, 81-year-old retired railroad man, after an illness of seven weeks. He had lived in the Hamlin community 50 years.

Born March 6, 1875, a Gent, he was the son of C. Clay and Mary McCracken. In 1895 he married the former Effie Perry in South Texas. The couple came to this community when Hamlin was in its infancy, and he worked for the Santa Fe Railway for many years. He was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Calvary Baptist Church. Officiating was Rev. W. C. Rea, the pastor.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Orb Miller, L. F. Turner, Jess Miller, J. W. Patterson, Clifford Stewart and Clarence Butler.

Surviving the octogenarian are his widow, Mrs. Effie McCracken; one son, Langford McCracken of Hamlin; three daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Locke of Colorado Springs, Colorado, Mrs. Viola Beavers of San Antonio, and Mrs. Mattie Lee Storey of Dalhart; one sister, Mrs. Nellie Rossen of Adamsville; 17 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

FROM THE ROAD UP 1957 Fords are a complete departure from previous models. The new models were unveiled last week at Hamlin Motor Company in Hamlin. Ford has 19 body styles, of which the above is the four-door Victoria, a member of the new Fairlane 500 series. Airplane models are nine inches longer and four inches lower than their 1956 counterparts. Though the new models are lower, interior headroom is as great as last year, since the car's chassis and floor are re-designed for a lower center of gravity.

Varied Stunts Given By Band at Games

Under the direction of the new instructor, Mac Fullerton, the high stepping Pied Piper Band is striving again this year to entertain the football spectators.

In the seven minutes allotted the band at half-time the group enacts a dream conjured by the chief. Each week everyone is surprised as to what the stunt will be until Wednesday morning. The stunt is drilled several hours or until it looks presentable.

This week the Piper Band and Pep Squad will have the whole half-time activities of the homecoming game. The Homecoming Queen will be presented, several stunts performed. A fireworks show and twirler features are other activities planned.

Fuel tanks have been increased in capacity to 20 gallons, three more than last year, for greater cruising range.

Youth Leader Talks At Methodist Church

Rev. Weldon Crowley, ministerial student at McMurry College in Abilene, and who is directing the young people's work in the First Methodist Church on week-ends, preached Sunday evening in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Darris Egger.

Rev. Crowley is giving good leadership to the young people of the church, Egger declares.

Tuesday-Wednesday Safest Part of Week

Driving somewhere? Then take advantage of reduced accident rates by traveling on Tuesday or Wednesday.

"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical year-book, just off the press, shows that in 1955 more than twice as many fatal motor vehicle accidents occurred on Saturday and Sunday than on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reports from 36 states show these fatal accident percentages of the week's total toll: Saturday,

Colorado City Wolves to Face Pipers in Homecoming Tilt

Nix-Men to Give Class AAA Crew Stiff Competition

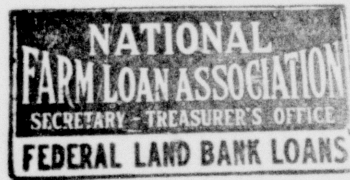

It will be homecoming for the students of Hamlin High School Friday night, and it will feature the grid battle on Pied Piper stadium between Coach Truman Nix's cohorts and the Colorado City Wolves from Mitchell County.

Although the Wolves have been pushed up to Class AAA football, the long time foes of the Pipers are in for a scrap with a spunky bunch of rookies from Hamlin High School who will be trying to "bring home the bacon" for a big bunch of former students—many of whom will be former members of Pied Piper teams of former years.

With two victories and one tie out of five games played so far this season, the Pied Pipers need to win Friday night's tilt to stay above the .500 percentage mark in the non-conference standings of pre-season games.

The Wolves have won two and lost three games so far this season, and apparently are outclassed by other teams in their AAA conference this year.

NOLAN-FISHER

ROBY, TEXAS

DISTRICT 4-AA STANDINGS

Stamford and Seymour continued to keep perfect records in last week-end's play while Anson and Hamlin lost their tilts to drop further down the slot in the pre-conference standings.

After last week-end games, the standings look like this:

Stamford	5	5	0	0	1.000
Seymour	5	5	0	0	1.000
Hamlin	5	2	2	1	.500
Anson	5	2	3	0	.400

Hamlin Juniors Take Undisputed Lead of Conference Standing

Hamlin Junior High School's Mighty Mice took undisputed lead of the five-member Junior High league last week with their defeat of the Anson Juniors, which had shared the lead the previous week.

After last week's grid tussles the standings looked like this:

Team—	P.	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Hamlin	3	3	0	0	1.000
Anson	2	1	1	0	.500
Rotan	2	1	1	0	.500
Albany	1	0	1	0	.000
Merkel	2	0	2	0	.000

Only one game was played last week, Coach Harry Martin's Mighty Mice trimming the Anson crew 21 to 19. The Albany-Merkel game was postponed because of rain. Rotan was idle.

This week's games, scheduled to be played Tuesday night were: Hamlin at Rotan and Anson at Albany. Merkel had an open date.

Mighty Mice of Junior High Trip Anson by 21 to 19

Those Mighty Mice of Hamlin Junior High School took over undisputed first place in their conference by handing the Anson Juniors their first defeat of the season Tuesday night by a score of 21 to 19. The game was closely played, with neither team being able to dominate their opponent.

Hamlin took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards to take the lead. Robert Brandon scampered the last 11 yards with Wesley Cummings plunging for the extra point.

Anson received the kick-off and three plays later shook one of their fast backs loose for 65 yards to the Hamlin five. On the fourth play Anson scored, but failed to make the extra point. Halftime found Hamlin nursing a 7 to 6 lead.

At the start of the second half an Anson boy ramblled 42 yards to send his team into the lead. The extra point was added.

On the first play after the kickoff Robert Brandon found a hole in the middle of the Anson line and sprinted 65 yards to tie the game up. Wesley Cummings again plunged for the extra point to regain the lead.

Hamlin scored again in the third quarter with Michael Bonds swinging around right end from 18 yards out. Wesley Cummings plunged to make the score 21 to 13.

Anson roared back for one touchdown midway in the fourth quarter.

Michael Bonds' passing to Wayne Boatright featured the Hamlin attack. Bob Murff was outstanding on defense.

"Isn't the rain dreadful?"

Efforts of Game and Fish Commission To Advance Sportsmen Interests Noted

Hamlin area hunters are manifesting interest in recent efforts to advance facilities for hunters and fishermen during the past several months.

Progress, naturally limited by negative weather, marked efforts to advance facilities for hunters and fishermen during the state fiscal year ending September 1, according to a release to The Herald this week from the executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He said the forward pace "was not as fast as it might have been in view of the dry conditions affecting the animal kingdom which is so sensitive to the elements."

Despite the unfavorable conditions, the executive secretary said "a promising new start has been made toward putting bob-white quail back in Texas in numbers adequate to restore the once famous fall field sport."

The quail movement centers around a state-wide educational program to counsel land owners and hunters in the essential phases of quail habitat development all linked to the new experimental quail farm at Tyler, which is designed to provide brood stock where native birds are not available.

The commission, he added, also has: Conducted a broad transplanting program involving deer, antelope and turkey, as well as exotic upland game species expected to populate arid West Texas areas; extended regulatory responsibility into new areas, as authorized by the Legislature, where hunting seasons and such are conducted on the basis of current conditions; sponsored antlerless deer harvests in key Hill Country areas to eliminate over-population and to provide better herd balance; put into effect new knowledge gained from strategically located game management areas; staged public hunts in some experimental demonstration areas to extend studies of the entire management process; expanded renovation of fresh water lakes and streams through removal of rough fish and obnoxious aquatic growth.

Blizzards Defeat Pipers in Friday Night Tilt 28 to 13

With two regulars out of the line-up Friday night, the Truman Nix coached Pied Pipers dropped their fifth game of the current grid season 28 to 13 to a superior Winters Blizzard team.

Eight minutes after the kick-off Winters scored when Maurice Holle raced over on a handoff from Jimmy Hoppe and three yards. Mack Young kicked the extra point.

In the second period Holle again went 40 yards for the second Blizzard score and Young converted.

Again in the second period Donald Casey went over on a 21-yard pass from Holle after Johnny Pope intercepted a Hamlin pass on the Pied Piper 27-yard spot. Young again converted.

In the fourth period Hamlin recovered a Winters fumbled punt on the 50-yard stripe. The Pipers scored when quarterback Don Adair passed to End Lane Fletcher, who went 50 yards for the marker. Charles Jenkins' extra point try was wide.

Winters recovered a Hamlin fumble on the Piper 35-yard line to set up its final score. Hoppe plunged over on a one-yard push. Young kicked his fourth extra point in a row.

Again the Pipers tallied in the fourth quarter when Doug Ford went 57 yards on a screen pass play from Adair. Jenkins kicked the extra point.

Winters made 17 first downs to five for Hamlin. Winters gained 312 yards rushing and 25 yards passing to Hamlin's 104 yards in the rushing department and 80 yards on passes.

Mighty Mice Have Open Grid Schedule

The rampaging Mighty Mice of Junior High School have an open date next Tuesday on their grid schedule.

The local junior high gidders have completed the first half of double round robin and are assured at least a tie for first place.

Stamford and Seymour Keep Perfect Records to Top District 4-AA Teams

Stamford and Seymour upheld the victory skeins of District 4-AA football teams last week-end to continue to impress area grid fans that there is strength in the smaller Central West Texas schools. Hamlin and Anson dropped their tilts to slide further down the percentage ladder of pre-conference standings.

Stamford's stampeding Bulldogs hung a 40 to 6 shellacking on the Coleman High School Bluecats on the Stamford griddle. As usual it was a clever, speedy Mike McClellan who led the attack with his scintillating runs and passes.

With only 12 minutes left in the game the Bluecats scored a tally to keep out of the skunked department. Coleman made 18 first downs to 24 for Stamford to prove the game was not so one-sided after all.

Anson High School's Tigers went down before the strong Merkey Badgers 14 to 6, to give the Pied Pipers some confidence that their 39 to 33 loss to the Badgers wasn't so bad two weeks ago. Jerry McLeod passed to Kermit Rutledge who scored first for Merkel in the first quarter and Rutledge kicked the extra point. Jack Russell tallied the second score later in the same quarter and Rutledge again kicked the two-point.

The Tigers scored when Jimmy Roberts went over from the one in the third quarter. Anson racked up eight first downs to Merkel's seven.

Seymour's Panthers made it five wins in a row Friday night when they trounced the Childress Bobcats to the tune of 42 to 13 in a tilt at Seymour. Larry Martin, Larry Walling, Billy Ryan, Howard Goss and Eddie Syptak accounted for the Seymour counters, Walling getting two. Bill Moss kicked five extra points and Bob Plummer converted another. Childress pushed over both its markers in the final quarter. First downs favored Seymour, 18 to 13.

Hamlin's 28 to 13 loss to the strong Winters Blizzards was not a surprise to most dopesters. The locals were suffering from injuries and were underdogs from the starting whistle. Winters scored in the first frame, twice in the second and again in the final quarter. Mack Young kicked all four extra points. Hamlin scored both its touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Lane Fletcher went over on a 50-yard pass from Charles Jenkins after the Pipers recovered a Winters fumble. Again in the final period Adair passed to Doug Ford who went 57 yards for the counter. Jenkins kicked the last extra point.

Most of Faults of Young People Due To Their Parents

"Most of the faults and failings of our young people of today are because of the failings of their parents," declared A. C. Wimpee, associate secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of Texas, when he spoke Tuesday at the noon luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

Wimpee in Hamlin for at least three speaking engagements, used sage remarks based on right living, clean thinking and observance of the 10 commandments as basis for sound reasoning between yams and displays of juggling and other acts.

He was due to speak Tuesday afternoon at the Hamlin High School and that evening at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church.

Frank Legon was recognized as a new member of the Lions Club. He is connected with H. & M. Tire and Appliance Store.

President Edgar Duncan of the club announced that a special Oil Progress Week program will be presented next Tuesday by Joe League. Lions were asked to invite as guests people of the community connected with the oil industry.

Besides Wimpee, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon included Rev. Calvin Bailey, new pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. Woodrow McHugh, pastor of the North Central Avenue Baptist Church; Sam Hayes and Frank Smith.

Rural Areas Account For Most Accidents

Sometimes you're safer among the tall buildings than in the tall corn.

The traffic death rate in urban areas is less than half that of rural areas, according to the 1955 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

The 1955 rural death rate was more than eight per 100,000,000 miles of travel, while the city death rate was less than four.

Night driving is considerably more hazardous than day driving in both urban and rural areas.

ROTARIANS of Hamlin will be host next Tuesday and Wednesday to Sydney A. Gaines, governor of the 186th District of Rotary International. He will speak at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the club at the oil mill guest house.

District Governor Of Rotary Clubs to Be Hamlin Visitor

Rotary Club of Hamlin will be host next Tuesday and Wednesday to Sydney A. Gaines, governor of the 186th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 36 Rotary Clubs in Northwest Texas. Gaines will address the local club next Wednesday noon and will confer with Club President M. S. Johnson, with Club Secretary John Howard Jr. and with committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

A member and past president of the Rotary Club of Wichita Falls, Gaines was elected a district governor of Rotary International for the 1956-57 fiscal year at Rotary's forty-seventh annual convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, last June. He is one of 248 district governors supervising the activities of more than 9,100 Rotary Clubs, which have a membership of 431,000 business and professional executives in 99 countries of the free world. Gaines is general manager of the United Electric Company of the United States in Wichita Falls, and for many years has given leadership to civic, fraternal, religious and business activities on both local and state levels.

Club President Johnson, in discussing the district governor's visit, pointed out that wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Hamlin club. All Rotary activities are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment, undertaking, raising the standards of business and the professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world.

Johnson stated that Rotray International continues to grow in numbers and strength each year. During the past fiscal year, 351 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Europe and the Islands of the Pacific. Seven countries were added to Rotary's roster—Angola, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands, New Guinea, Ruanda-Urundi, and Swaziland.

Washington One of Safest Places to Drive In All of Country

Ever wonder why so many people want to be congressmen and senators?

Well, aside from the pay and prestige there may be another important reason.

The district of Columbia is one of the safest places in the country to work and to drive a motor vehicle. The death rate there last year from accidents occurring at work was 1.4 per 100,000 population, and the motor vehicle death rate was 11.6—as compared with 8.6 and 23.3 for the nation.

A precocious voice trilled: "The small investors."

GATE - CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently.

He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates."

Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

Cattle Grubs Can Be Controlled by Care, Says Agent

Cattle raisers of the Hamlin section were being warned this week by County Agent Bill Lehmberg to be on the look-out for cattle grubs. He submitted the following release:

Cattle grubs are costly, but can be controlled. From October through December cattle grubs can be found in the backs of cattle of the area.

A recent estimate by the Agriculture Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says the damage to hide and flesh of each grub infested animal is more than $7 per head.

The loss shows up in (1) hide damage, (2) unsightly and devalued carcasses due to trimming, (3) lower feed lot gains, (4) reduced milk production, (5) frightened, running cattle during heel fly season, which further reduces gain and production.

Recommended treatment includes spraying and dusting. For large herds spray with 7½ pounds of five per cent rotenone per 100 gallons of water. For small herd a prepared dust containing at least 1.67 per cent rotenone. A minimum of three ounces of dust should be worked thoroughly into the hair on the back of the animal.

Treat at 30-day intervals as long as necessary, starting when

Annual Financial Drive for Hamlin Camp Fire Girls Conducted This Week

Hamlin Camp Fire Girls organization has shown rapid expansion since the charter was received two years ago. The number of paid members in the local council has increased from 66 to 104 in the last calendar year. These facts were revealed by Mrs. E. N. Jenkins, registrar, at the recent meeting of the board of directors.

Last Tuesday evening the following members of the board met in business session, with President John D. Ferguson presiding: Mrs. William Seals, secretary; Mrs. Arlie Castle, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. McClung, chairman of the leaders association; Mrs. E. N. Jenkins, registrar; Mrs. James Fitz-Gerald, publications chairman; Mrs. Irby Weaver, organization chairman; Mrs. Jack Wicker, group leader; and Mrs. John D. Ferguson, sponsor.

Finance Committee Chairman C. L. Howard presented the plans for the annual fund campaign, and the group voted to have the drive on Monday and Tuesday, October 8 and 9. This finance drive is in the form of a house-to-house solicitation conducted by mothers and leaders, with all funds remaining in the Hamlin council for local use after the $15 dues are paid to the national office.

Among recent improvements made at the Camp Fire Girls hut were installation of an air conditioner; purchase of a dozen folding chairs and gardening equipment. All improvements and additions have been made possible by the generous support of the local citizenry to this character building organization for girls. The Camp Fire board and leaders association express gratitude to citizens for their continued interest and support.

Next meeting of the board was scheduled for October 18 at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

PUT ON HIS NOSE.

A religious and charitable woman noticed a very down-and-out sort of man standing at the corner of the street near her residence.

One morning she took compassion on him, pressed a dollar into his hand and whispered, "Never despair."

The next time she saw him he stopped her and handed her nine dollars.

"What does this mean?" she asked.

"It means, ma'am," said the man, "that Never Despair won at eight to one."

Cars received from connections totaled 13,251 compared with 13,285 for the same week in 1955.

Dangerous Vocations Practice Safety Rules

Looking for a nice safe place to work? Try a high explosive plant!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows that the 1953-55 average accident frequency rate for high explosives plants is less than one-third of the average rate for all industries. Plants manufacturing powder and fuses are also far below the average for all industries.
